

Challenge 1: Conveying and interpreting meaning

2

This challenge is often related to understanding how emotional tone is conveyed online according to neurotypical expectations.

“I have to be really, really careful as well because I think I’m coming over wrong or saying the wrong thing in the wrong way, because other people are interpreting it like I’m angry.”

“Somebody said to me one day: why you were shouting at me? (...) when you use capital letters, it means you’re shouting, so I didn’t know that.”
