

Challenge 1: Conveying and interpreting meaning

1

For some participants, being understood by others on social media requires effort.

Some participants compose posts and replies several times to ensure that their communicative intentions come across correctly.

This can make engaging in social media very tiring.