

Challenge 3: Audience uncertainty

Some participants found it difficult to clearly identify who is seeing their social media content. On some platforms they found privacy particularly difficult to control.

Also, content published on social media might be permanent and some participants worried about materials written in the past resurfacing at unexpected times.